

NEVADA STATE LEGISLATURE

Special to The Journal:

CARSON, Feb. 14.—Both houses of the legislature were in session today, although it was Saturday, and most of the members expect to spend Sunday in the capital city.

The principal work accomplished was the passing of the irrigation bill in both houses. There was but one dissenting voice in either branch. This bill was formulated at the suggestion of Senator Newlands, and conforms with the requirements of the national legislation of the subject of which the senator was the father. It is believed that the bill will receive the signature of Governor Sparks Monday, as he is known to be in sympathy with the measure as presented.

IN THE SENATE

Senate bill, No. 38: To provide a special commissioner to secure payment of war claims. Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

Senate joint resolution, Lord: Relative to power given supervision of school trustees. Referred to Education Committee.

tion Committee.

Assembly bill, No. 37, Cooke: An act relating to mechanics' liens. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Senate sub for Assembly bill, No. 13, Pohl: Relative to election of school trustees. Referred to Education Committee.

Senate bill, No. 26, Bell: Relative to certain outstanding Nye county warrants. Passed all.

Assembly bill, No. 20, Denton: To regulate settlement of estates of deceased persons. Passed all.

Assembly bill, No. 16, (the irrigation bill): The bill was read by sections and several attempts were made to amend the bill, but were lost, and the bill passed the senate by the following vote: Yea, 13; nay, 1. Senators Pitt, Gallagher and Hardin being present.

Senator Williams stated after the vote that he wished to thank Senator Newlands for the work he had done for the bill, and especially for the ranchers on the Sink of the Carson.

Assembly concurrent resolution, No. 1, Vaughan: Memorializing congress for act removing tariff from coal. The act was passed by a vote of 13 to 2. Senators Freudenthal and Brougher voting no.

Senate bill, No. 11: Act to provide for an adequate number of trainmen on all trains. Special order for Monday at 2:30.

Senate bill, No. 27, Freudenthal: To provide revenue for the state. The bill changes the law compelling the assessors to print an assessment roll enumerating taxable property; and leaves the law as it was prior to the act of 1901. Bill passed all.

Senate bill, No. 23, Freudenthal: Act relative to powers of county commissioners when canvassing election returns. Bill passed and file cleared.

IN THE ASSEMBLY

Cushing made a motion that a committee of two be appointed to confer

MISS MARION COCKRELL AND E. F. GALLAUDET

SENATOR COCKRELL'S DAUGHTER WEDS

Special to The Journal:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A long list of notable persons, headed by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and including senators, representatives, judges of the United States Supreme Court, heads of departments, prominent officers of the army and navy and members of the foreign diplomatic corps, filled the fashionable church of the Covenant at noon today when Miss Marion Cockrell, daughter of United States Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, became the bride of Edson S. Gallaudet, son of Dr. Edward M. Gallaudet, president of Gallaudet College. The wedding was one of the most brilliant of the season in the national capital.

The music and the floral decorations of the church were on a scale of great magnificence. The ceremony was performed by Dr. T. E. Hamlin, pastor of the church. The bride looked radiant in a rich gown of white satin as she walked up the aisle on the arm of her father. The bridal party were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Francis Parsons, of Hartford. Miss Anna Ewing Cockrell, the debutante sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The ushers included Winthrop Dwight of New York, Geo. D. Seymour of New Haven, John Robinson of Hartford, Frederick Allison of St. Louis, Gilford Pinchot of Washington, Herbert Gallaudet, brother of the bridegroom, and E. Cockrell and Allen V. Cockrell, brothers of the bride.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the bridal party and guests repaired to Reuscher's, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Gallaudet will take up their home in Philadelphia.

The wedding of Miss Cockrell and Mr. Gallaudet culminates a pretty little romance. The romance dates from the christening of the battleship Missouri at Newport News, in December, 1901. Miss Cockrell was the sponsor for the warship, and Mr. Gallaudet attended the launch as the representative of his employers, the Champ Shipbuilding Company, and also as Miss Cockrell's guest.

The bride has enjoyed the reputation of being one of the greatest belles of the national capital. She is a tall and handsome blond and has been at the head of her father's home for the past eight years. Having lived all her life in Washington, she is completely identified with resident, as well as official, society, and has enjoyed a unique position as one of the maiden hostesses of the senatorial circle, having at the age of eighteen assumed the charge of her father's household at the death of her mother. She was educated in the private schools of this city, later going to Paris, where she completed her studies at the Convent of the Assumption. During the exposition of 1900 she was the guest of Commissioner and Mrs. Walsh in Paris, where she was greatly admired. Mr. Gallaudet, although a son of one of Washington's prominent residents has spent little time at the capital since his childhood. He was graduated from Yale in the class of 1895, and was one of the best known athletes of that university. He was stroke for the winning crew in the boat races of 1892 and 1893, and coach for the following year. He was instructor at Yale for three years after his graduation, but is now associated with the shipbuilding firm of Cramp and Company at Philadelphia.

MODIFIES DEMANDS

The Money Ready For Venezuela at Any Time

Special to The Journal:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Official notices received from London tonight state that the Venezuela blockade has been ordered raised. The ships will probably be withdrawn tomorrow. It became known tonight also that Carnegie had offered Bowen to advance for Venezuela $360,000 with which to pay in full the claims of Germany. He made no claims for interest, and no conditions as to the return of the money. The money was available on demand. Bowen did not require the money as Germany modified her demands.

RAILROAD ASSURED

Northern Country to Be Tapped by New Line.

The railroad from Oakland to Portland is now to be built without fail, and George Gould seems to be the moving spirit in the enterprise, says the Plumas Independent. It makes little reference to the people of Plumas who build the new trans-continent road via Beckwith Pass, so it is built quickly. Whoever they may be, they will have the good will of our people when sunshine and storm have worn the road they knew must some day come. They realized the importance of the great pass to railroad builders, and they waited, patiently while the wheels fell well that as our state grew in population and wealth a winter road through the Sierras would become a necessity, and now that necessity is met. The railroad builders in the future of those men limits the time for construction to two years. The people can well afford to wait longer for the rectification of the mistake the grave mistake of the projectors of the Central Pacific, who though making that road at the expense of the people obtained by grants of public lands and immense sums of money, disregarded the advice of their engineer, Phillips, regarding the propriety of laying the route through the Beckwith Pass and this advice of a competent engineer was disregarded on the sole ground that the overland trains would by necessity enter Marysville, before reaching Sacramento, a childish motive surely, for inflicting the snow sheds and Cape Horn upon the travelling public, especially by men having the capacity to conceive the possibility of the execution of such a magnificent railroad scheme, and the ability to secure from the government, more money and lands than required to build the road.

But, we can afford to bury the dead past, and hopefully look forward to the new era already drawing upon long neglected Plumas. The Oakland and Purdy road as it is now called is a fixed fact. It is a public necessity and as sure to come as tax paying time. From the Examiner we learn that thirty-six miles of the road, from Tesla to tidewater at Oakland, has been surveyed by A. W. Kiddle, chief engineer of the company. It is estimated that this portion of the road will cost $2,080,000, as it includes $1,000,000 for the cost of a tunnel a mile long through the Contra Costa hills, near Livermore. The surveyed route from Stockton, by way of Sacramento and Oroville to the Beckwith Pass, will be 300 miles in length, and the cost of constructing and equipping it is estimated at $13,000,000, and the total cost of new road to be built and equipped is estimated at $15,000,000. The year of the Jubilee is near at hand. Our mines will be opened, quartz mills

AN OPEN LETTER

A History of the Labor Trouble Between the Carpenters' Union and the Unfair Contractors of Reno.

The Carpenters' Union, with a present membership of eighty-five, was officially installed in Reno in February, 1902. The union is composed of men who have in the past worked for the various contractors, both as journeymen and foremen, and have actually performed the work handled by them. Their only intention in organizing a union was to get what they thought they ought to have, viz: To get a better and more uniform wage, to decrease the day labor from 9 to 8 hours per day and to encourage a higher standard of skill. The contractors were informed and asked to grant the eight-hour day, of which the majority had already asserted their willingness to grant, but prior to the time that it was to go into effect, the majority of the contractors formed what they called a Builders' Association and agreed to not grant the request and up to the present time have stayed with their agreement, amongst themselves, while the union men have done their best to get work enough to keep themselves employed as much as possible, and the union still exists and will continue to exist as long as there is any building in Reno.

As the Carpenters' Union, No. 971 U. E. C. & J. of A., has been misrepresented either through ignorance or maliciousness, we feel it is no more than our duty to try and disabuse the public mind by writing this open letter for print and wish to state that what is herein contained challenges successful contradiction.

We feel that the Carpenters' Union has been imposed upon by unfair contractors and unfair workmen going to parties and representing themselves to be fair workmen and obtaining work on the strength of their being union men.

The Builders' Association published an open letter in which they claim to not be opposed to union labor, who in truth some of them have given orders to their foremen to discharge any union men whom they found to be a member of the Carpenters' Union. The foreman on the Wheeler's hill stated these facts in an interview with the president of our union. He also stated that if the men working on that job should join the union they would all be discharged.

One year ago when the union officially asked the contractors to grant us the eight-hour day, some of them said that the union proposition was too new and suggested that it would take a year for the public to get used to the change, so we acted on their suggestion and have waited the year.

Some of the non-union contractors have granted the eight-hour day and others are still working nine hours, and are paying wages ranging from $2.00 to $4.00 per day.

The fair contractors have paid and are paying a standard wage of $3.50 for an eight-hour day and are continuing to successfully compete with the unfair contractors. Anyone wishing to patronize union men can do so by addressing the secretary of the Carpenters' Union, Nevada Bank building.

The union has used all fair means to induce all journeymen carpenters to become members of the union, which some of them would do only if they are afraid they would lose their jobs, while others claim they have the benefit of all the union has done in bringing about the present short day and better labor conditions and are not compelled to pay dues or contribute anything toward the union—the only thing that is responsible for bringing about the bettered labor conditions.

Now, anyone who refuses to patronize union labor by giving their work to unfair contractors or non-union men cannot expect to receive the patronage of union men or their friends, and we will use our best endeavors to protect union interests.

Following this letter will be found a list of the fair and unfair carpenters and contractors.

In addition to the list of fair contractors there are a number of union men handling work by the day direct from owners whose names may be obtained by addressing the secretary of the union.

WATER PIPES FROZEN

The Present Cold Snap Working Havoc With the Residents

About all you could hear in Reno yesterday was "is your pipe frozen?" Nearly everybody got up yesterday morning and found that their bathrooms, sinks, and other appliances attached to the water main had refused to do business. They were frozen solid. The water company was in almost as bad a fix as their customers. They found that one of the mains leading into the city was frozen almost solid and they immediately put a force of men at work getting pipe loosened up. They had men at work all over the city fixing the pipes and through their efforts many people will have all kinds of water supply this morning.

The thanks of the entire community will go out to the company for the good work they have done and are doing.

DEVIL'S AUCTION

Many Special Features to Be Introduced

Among the vaudeville and other special features engaged by Chas. H. Yale for the twenty-first edition of the "Everlasting Devil's Auction" are Irene La Tour and Zaza, a most novel performance, and DeWitt and Burns, comedy acrobats and equilibrists. Both these acts have been brought from Europe by Manager Yale, and are strongly endorsed as London and continental hits. Other features are offered in Morton and Van Allen, electric musical grotesques, and a new novelty entitled "The Dance to the Moon." This company will appear in Reno at McKissick's Opera House next Thursday.

Reckless Amusement

Complaint was made yesterday to the officers that a number of boys were in the habit of shooting rifles in the vicinity of the hospital, on the hill to the north of the city. Yesterday one of the youngsters sent a bullet through a lower window of the building and luckily no one was hurt. Parents should instruct their boys that this kind of practice will bring them into trouble if kept up. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Returned From the Comstock

John Murray returned from Virginia yesterday. Mr. Murray has been in Virginia for the past three days engaged in decorating the hall for the dance by the Ladies of the Eastern Star. The hall was decorated to represent a tent and was greatly admired by all. Mr. Murray will probably do the decorating work on the hall for the inaugural ball.

Marriage Licenses

Yesterday was about as slow as the day before as far as marriage licenses were concerned. But one license was issued and the couple just stepped across the hall where Judge Nash performed the ceremony that made two hearts beat as one. Their names are G. W. Sichel and Annie B. Van Denter, both of San Francisco.

No Clue Thus Far

No clue to the robbers who entered the saloon of Louis Avansino a few days ago had been found by the officers last night, although a diligent search of the questionable resorts had been made. It is almost a sure thing that the men who turned the trick were familiar with the place and had been here for some time.

Valentine's Day

Yesterday the employees of the post-office were kept busy handing out valentines for the different people of the city. They report the largest business in years. They said the mail from Virginia City was the heaviest in the past ten years and as a consequence many little comic papers were received here.

Justice Court

There was nothing of interest doing in the Justice Court yesterday. Judge Nash married a couple, and then had his attention called to the case of a young man arrested as a "P. I." He was given ample time to leave the town and promised to do so.

Cleaning Out the Town

Constable Wilson and his deputies have been cleaning the town of a number of people that have that "tired feeling." This work should be kept up until this city is free of a class of people that take up too much room.

District Court

The case of McKenzie vs. Coslett was still before the District Court yesterday. All the testimony had been turned in and arguments were commenced. It is not known when a decision will be handed in.

Sunday's Dinner

The usual fine Sunday dinners will be served at the Overland and Riverside hotel today. The Overland will have a fine orchestra in the dining room, while the meal at the Riverside will be of the finest the epicures could be asked for.

VALENTINE DAY PARTY

A Very Pleasant Entertainment Given by Master Frank Nolan

A very pleasant Valentine's Day party was given yesterday afternoon from 2 to 4 by Master Frank Nolan, at 601 Lake street.

About twenty young people were present. The rooms were very prettily decorated with hearts, darts and cupid. Cardinal and pale blue were the colors used throughout the parlors and the effect in the subdued light of the red electric globes was most pleasing.

Music and games, in which the winners received dainty valentines and heart shaped boxes of candies as prizes and a luncheon composed of heart shaped cakes, ices, confections and other eatables, made the afternoon pass very pleasantly for the young people present.

STOCK SHIPMENTS

What Was Done in This Line Here Yesterday

The following shipments of stock made from this point yesterday: Two cars of cattle to Klineer & Co., and Francisco; two cars to Baradona, and one car to Harry Humphreys.

Lots of cattle and sheep remained in the yards after this shipment was made and they will be held here until cars are forthcoming.

Good Stock

Some days ago thirty-four head of Dr. Patterson's yearling bulls were passed over the scales at Reno before being shipped to purchasers east and west, and the entire band averaged 1181 pounds each. One bunch of eleven head averaged 1154 pounds. They were a fine lot. Twenty-five of them went to the Iowa Coal & Iron Company. The doctor had some fifty odd head, and as many more could have been disposed of had they been on hand. How is it that our cattle growers let such animals leave here? No finer stock can be found anywhere than those of Dr. Patterson's, as a visit to his herds will show.—Sierra Valley Record.

Feet Frozen

The Virginia Enterprise contained the following: Yesterday James (Doc) Powers was found lying in his cabin at Silver City with both of his feet badly frozen. A physician was summoned from this city and found that Mr. Powers was in a very serious condition. His feet had no circulation and had an unnatural color, and it is very likely that both feet will have to be amputated. The unfortunate man was taken to the residence of his sister, and everything possible is being done to avoid amputation. The physician will determine today whether or not an operation will be necessary.

Wedded in Oakland

Edward Smith, a popular young business man of Napa, and Miss Jennie Nichols, of Reno, Nev., were married at two o'clock Sunday afternoon in Oakland. Rev. E. M. Hill tied the nuptial knot, and the ceremony was performed at his residence. H. O. Smith, a brother of the groom, and Miss Lillian Nichol, a sister of the bride, attended the happy couple as best man and bridesmaid. Relatives only witnessed the marriage. — San Jose Mercury.

The Owl Opening

Last night the Owl Saloon opened up the season with a plentiful supply of Ritter's steam beer, porter, half-and-half and other good things made right here at home. A big crowd was present and all said the articles were all right. The liquids speak for themselves consequently no mention of their qualities is necessary in these columns.

Trains Delayed

All trains from the east were delayed last night owing to the wreck east of Wells. The railroad company found it necessary to build another track around the wreck in order to clear the track of numerous freight and passenger trains coming this way.

First Mill Installed

James H. Kinkead shipped one of his own crushing mills to Tonopah this morning, consigned to Walter Osborne of that place. This will be the pioneer mill of that camp, as it is the first ore crushing plant to be installed here.—Walker Lake Bulletin.

Willard Meeting Tonight

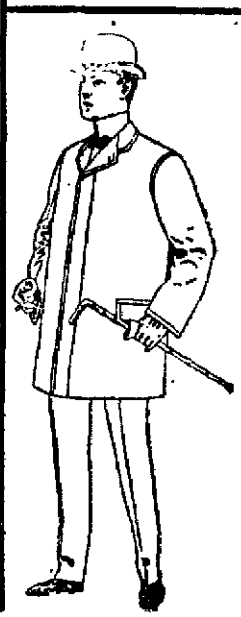

The Willard meeting will be held at the Congregational church this evening. A literary and musical program will be carried out and all are invited to attend.

our money, and we shall generally have inflation when it is not required and contraction when more money is needed to sustain prices and business—this because the banks will always look out for themselves regardless of the requirements of the people at large. So it is now and so it will be when it is made easier for the banks to increase their circulation.

If the banks are given full control of our paper currency, which is the object sought, it will practically be the same thing as allowing them to control the entire volume of the nation's money. They will simply increase or diminish the whole volume by issuing more or less paper.

THE REPUBLICAN TRUST PROGRAM

THE Journal has no desire to be unfairly partisan in its comments upon the proceedings of congress

Nevertheless, at this time and from this distance it looks very much as if the Republican majority, aided by the administration, is simply playing politics in its treatment of the trusts. The President professes a strong desire for anti-trust legislation, and, accordingly, the Littlefield

bill, a very mild measure, by the way, is rushed through the house. But mild as it is it does not suit the senate, and is held up by that body, the report being that the Senate Judiciary Committee regards the measure as unconstitutional.

It was the general understanding while the Littlefield

bill was on its way through the house that it had the approval of the administration, and now comes the statement that Attorney General Knox has given it as his opinion that the bill is unconstitutional. "Rally to the support of the Elkins bill" is now the cry. This bill really contains very little of general value. The publicity section, engrafted upon it as an amendment, does not bring more than lay a foundation for further action, which may never be had.

Thus we see a reputed administration measure hurried through the house and killed in the senate, while a senate bill of much milder import is passed and sent over to the house. Then the cry is raised in administration circles that the "Elkins bill" is extremely objectionable to the trusts, and the impression is sent broadcast over the land that the Republican party is making an awful fight against these great industrial combinations. In the end, it is safe to say that the legislation enacted will be harmless to the trusts and almost, if not quite, worthless to the people.

That the Republicans are treating the question in a purely partisan spirit is demonstrated by the fact that they have voted down every amendment offered by a Democrat, and intended to make the law more effective, while on the other hand the Democrats, failing to get what they wanted to still voted for the measures as steps, however short, in the right direction. Any anti-trust legislation insufficient though it may be, to curb the evil, is still an admission that there is something wrong, and supports the Democratic contention.

The Republican game is to enact some law hurting the trusts as little as possible, and then to appeal to both the people and the trusts in the campaign of 1904, upon the basis of the same action. To the people it will be argued that the party went as far in dealing with the trust evil as it was possible to go at one time, while the trusts will be invited to consider how little they have been hurt and how much worse it would have been for them if the Democrats had been in power. As a result, it is hoped that the people will be wild with enthusiasm for the "Grand Old Party," and that the trusts will, as usual, contribute heavily to its campaign fund. It will be interesting to watch the play as it unfolds and develops

Has a Fortune Hidden

Special to The Journal:

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 14.—Charles

Beeler, who robbed the Wells, Fargo

Express Company of $52,000, at San Antonio, four years ago, will be released from the state penitentiary

within the next day or two, when he will have served his term of five years,

with time allowed for good conduct deducted. Beeler still has about $50,- 000 of the stolen money. At least he is supposed to know where it is, as only

$70, which was found on his person

when arrested, was ever recovered.

The money is supposed to be safely

hidden or in the hands of some unknown accomplice, who will turn a big share of it over to Beeler when the latter gains his liberty. It is known that the express company has engaged detectives to watch every movement of Beeler from the time he leaves the prison doors, with a view of locating

the stolen money or some part of it.

Since Beeler's imprisonment the company has sued him and obtained judgment in the sum of $50,000.

For World's Championship

Special to The Journal.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—During the week

commencing tomorrow night all eyes

in the billiard world will be turned toward this city where a tournament

for the world's championship will be in progress. With the exception of Jacob Schaefer, who is in the city but who is not likely to compete owing to an inability to come to terms with the managers, nearly every expert of wide reputation will be seen in the competition. America will be ably represented by George Slosson and

George Sutton, while Ora Morningstar

and Leonard Howison are also among the entries. The French players of prominence who will take part are

Maurice Vignaux, Cure, Gibelin and Barutel. Slosson appears to be in good form and those who have seen him play since his recent arrival here are of the opinion that he has more than an even chance of carrying off the honors from the French experts with the cue.

with a like committee from the senate regarding the proposed visit to the state institutions in Reno. Motion carried and Assemblymen Cushing and Crosby appointed.

Judd introduced a resolution asking for the appointment of a committee of three to post themselves on the financial condition of the state and be ready to answer questions relative thereto, that might be propounded by members of the Assembly when discussing proposed appropriation bills. Carried.

Assembly bill, No. 69, Graham Amending the act for the maintenance of public schools. Referred to the Committee on Education.

Assembly bill, No. 70, McCabe: To remove the county seat of Nye county to Tonopah from Belmont. Referred to the Nye county delegation.

Assembly bill, No. 71, Judd, by request: An act providing for the incorporation of churches and religious societies. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill, No. 14, Roff: Ratifying the action of the Board of Asylum Commissioners in deeding a right of way to the Southern Pacific. Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill, No. 15, Roff: Repealing the law of two years ago authorizing the granting of right of way referred to in the previous bill. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill, No. 18, Roff: Prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors and drugs to Indians. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill, No. 22, Brougher: A new revenue bill. Ways and Means Committee.

Senate bill, No. 24, Bell: Reapportionment of senators and assemblymen in the various counties of Nevada. Committee on Elections.

The house resolved itself into a committee of the whole, with McCarran in the chair, to consider Assembly bill, No. 37, and such other matters as might come before it. Assembly bill, No. 37, appropriates $8000 for the maintenance of a Fish and Game Commission to be appointed by the governor. It was amended to reduce the appropriation to $6000 and reported favorably.

Assembly bills, Nos. 16, 50 and 8, were also considered by the committee, each of them proposing to name the lady to be employed at a compensation of $150 to copy the journal of the assembly. After several ballots were taken the committee recommended the appointment of Miss Riley daughter of Assemblyman Riley, of Humboldt, for the position, and upon arising the bill was passed.

Susan B. Anthony

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 14. — Presents and messages of congratulations are being received in large numbers by Susan B. Anthony in anticipation of her eighty-third birthday, which falls tomorrow. The venerable leader of the woman suffrage movement has completely recovered from the illness of last year, which at one time was regarded as alarmingly serious. Her wonderful health and spirits seem to be proof against time and disease, and so lightly do her four score years rest upon her that she is still in the habit of working as she has worked during the last half century—that is to say, as if there were no limit to her capacity.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The doors of the Coliseum opened today on the greatest show of automobiles ever held in the West. Every foot of space in the big building is occupied, which means that there are twice as many exhibits as at last year's exhibition. In addition to the display of self-propellers, the show has attracted scores of men interested in automobiles and next week they will assemble in conference for the discussion of the good roads movement. Albert B. Shattuck, president of the Automobile Club of America, and General Roy Stone, the government's good road expert, will address the meeting.

BANDITS CAUGHT

One of Them Breaks Down and Makes Confession

Special to The Journal:

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 14. — George Cole, under arrest here, has made a confession of the Burlington holdup of Wednesday, and implicates George Howard, alias Joe Kirby. Cole says he had fourteen cartridges in his rifle, all of which were fired in an effort to frighten the trainmen and passengers.

Cole and his companion were arrested yesterday because they had just come to town and answered the general description of the two robbers. Cole was put through the sweating process, and today he broke down and confessed the whole affair.

A HEAVENLY VISITOR

Meteor Startles Inhabitants of Utah Town

Special to The Journal:

BINGHAM, Utah, Feb. 14. — A mammoth meteor struck the earth near here at 4:45 this morning. The falling body when it struck the earth caused windows to rattle and houses to tremble, while a sound like a mighty clap of thunder awakened the inhabitants. The meteor plunged into the mountains southwest of this place, and the shock was felt by persons living miles away.

MUNROE IS

Corbett is Working Hard for Approaching Battle.

Jim Corbett has called to Jack Munroe as to how to beat Tom Sharkey. A few days ago the miner took his first lesson from the Californian in a gymnasium in New York City.

Munroe started well. Corbett showed him what to do in every instance, and the ex-miner did not have to be told the same thing a second time. While he did not show perfection after the trials, he did impress Corbett with the idea that he would be the quickest pupil he ever had. "That fellow will be a study after a little while," said Corbett. "He is a bit raw, but he will be able to do anything. He has a wallop and a good chin. That is what counts. I'll show him the rest." Corbett did not try to hit the ex-miner, but let him feel the body of the Californian. Munroe said that he had taken a row, he turned to Corbett and said:

"Surely they don't say you cannot hit. I know different, and if anybody tells me that you are not capable of delivering a hard enough punch to knock out any man I will have to side-step before a gentleman for a few minutes and call him a name that would result in a shooting affray down South. I have seen a lot of men in good shape, but I doubt if anybody has anything on you just now. I am glad to have such a capable teacher."

Shoes For Aching Feet
No tacks, no thuds to hurt your feet, simply comfort. Lady, this shoe is worth your notice, especially if you are about the house much. They are soft as satin, very flexible, and absolutely noiseless. Every pair of Sorensen shoes sold is the harbinger of an increased demand for them as footwear of absolute ease.

We find if we give our patrons good member Cleator's shop when wanting footwear for dress.

The Latest in Bicycles

The Geo. N. Pierce Co. have prepared the most radical change for 1903, since their advent of their cushion frame in the adoption of a front fork made of spring steel sides. This device is beautiful and perfect in action. This spring fork accomplishes for the front, what the cushion does in the rear. Bicycles so built have all the comforts of the millionaire's coach. This company have produced the finest results in cycle builders' art. These wheels are now on exhibition at

MINING NEWS OF INTEREST

Gathered from Doings of the Camps Here-
about

Manager A. Carlson of the Deer Creek mine, near Charleston, says he will put up a stamp mill of fifty tons daily capacity. The property is 45 miles northeast of Tuscarora. The ore runs $20 in gold.

At the Iris clat at Deed Lodge, owned by Moody & Dameron, the shaft is down 100 feet in 6 feet of ore assaying $20 in gold.

J. B. Gilbert & Co. are developing a turquoise mine in the Hardscrabble mountains at Crescent.

J. W. Tuck, working a group of claims on Spirit mountain, below Searchlight, reports opening up a body of free gold ore. The vein was cut in the tunnel and 11 feet of ore exposed. In the shaft 3 feet of ore were cut. The mines are near the top of the mountain and 7 miles from the Colorado river.

The Nevada Reduction Co. are increasing the capacity of their cyanide
plant at Dayton.

The Slip mine at Olinghouse is extracting ore from a 6 foot vein and the tunnel is in 520 feet. There are sixty-five men working in the mines at Olinghouse and three mills running.

Assayer T. F. Niland, at the Newhouse mines at Hannapah, says he has found by analysis that their ores carry platinum up to $209 a ton. It occurs as platinum-diasenide, in min recubes or cubo-octahedrons, with a mtallie luster. This is the only known native compound of platinum (says Dana's Mineralogy.) Its occurrence has also been noted in the Rambl r
mine at Grand Encampment, Wyo.

Short's fancy dairy butter received

Op store.

STATE NEWS OF INTEREST

What the People Outside of Reno Are Doing

The Southern Pacific engineer corps has nearly completed the survey for the tunnel through the Sierras. It will be over five miles in length and will eliminate 20 miles of curves and do away with a climb of 1000 feet. The eastern portal will be eight miles west of Truckee and the western at Blue Canyon.—Virginia Report.

The farmers of this section state that not for many years past has the outlook for water for summer use on the ranches been so good as this season. At the headwaters of both the East and West Walker rivers snow is piled up to a great depth. It came down wet, froze solid after falling, and many canyons are said to be full of practically solid ice.—Walker Lake Bulletin.

Thursday morning the ground in the valley was again covered with from one to two inches of snow, while the surrounding hills were covered with a much heavier coat. The cold weather is holding the snow in reserve in the hills and there will be no shortage of water in this section next summer.—
Lyon County Times.

The Redding Searchlight of recent date says: Charles Stever and son, Lawrence, have gone to Reno, Nev., where Mr. Stever will open a bowling alley.

The snow storm of the past two weeks has worked a hardship on the quail, which have come down to the edge of the valley with the hope of securing sufficient food to prevent starvation. As the winters for the past several years have been very mild, there are large numbers of quail
in the mountains.

THE SENSATION OF THE SEASON

Dr. Frederic Bell

Prince of Orators,
King of Palmists,
and Phrenologists

Will deliver his first lecture in Reno next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 15, at 3 o'clock, Doors open at 2:30
Subject

"LOVE, COURTSHIP, MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE."

At the close of the lecture Dr. Bell will give a free public examination of 12 ladies and gentlemen selected from the audience. Then the doctor will marry them, and proceed to demonstrate "why marriage is so often a failure," after which he will remarry them and show how marriage can be one continual courtship.

DON'T MISS IT

Only 25c to all parts of the house
Seats on sale at Rosenthal and A-mank's, and at the door on the afternoon of the lecture.

"Dr. Bell is a man of fine personal appearance, has a robust physique,
showing a great deal of muscular power,
a commanding presence, and rich resonant voice. He is an evidence of a strong man of progressive ideas who is abreast of the times and his lecture on Love, Courtship and Marriage and divorce, will doubtless be a power for good wherever he lectures."
—Examiner, S. F. Cal., Sept. 17, 1909.
Every seat in the Metropolitan Temple, from stage to top gallery, was occupied last evening when Dr. Bell delivered a lecture on the subject, Love, Courtship, marriage and divorce. He held the attention of his cultured audience, now awakening their risibles,
now gouging somebody's conscience with his keen edged sarcasm, and then bewildering them with his range of experience and observation.—S. F.
Chronicle.

Dr. Bell is still giving readings in Palmistry, Clairvoyance and Phrenology at reduced rates, at the GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL
Suite 9, opposite the park, ground floor, ladies entrance. Consultation and Diagnosis Absolutely free. Everything strictly confidential. You meet no callers. Daily from 10 a. m. to 8
p. m. Open Sundays by appointment.

WILL VISIT RENO

The Members of the Legislature to Come Here Wednesday

It has been definitely settled that the members of the Nevada legislature, now in session, will visit Reno on Wednesday of this week and visit the university and asylum.

Anticipating this fact, a meeting of the trustees of the Reno Chamber of Commerce was held last evening, which was attended by many members outside the regular board.

Short remarks were made regarding the proposed visit by H. H. Beck, Prof. H. R. McDowell, R. W. Parry, H. J. Darling, E. R. Dodge, W. A. Patterson, Wm. Ballinger, S. M. Sample and several others, at the conclusion of which it was resolved that a special invitation be extended to the members of the legislature that during their stay in Reno they visit the exhibit room of the Chamber of Commerce and carefully inspect the work which is being done by the organization in the way of advancing the interests of the state.

It is understood that the citizens of Reno are planning to give the members a reception on the evening of their visit, and that steps have already been taken on this line, but the final plans for this have not as yet been made public.

THOSE RESOLUTIONS

As Others View the Situation in Washoe County

Carson City, Feb. 14.

Editor Journal: In The Journal of recent date I find some resolutions adopted by the Democratic Central Committee of Washoe county censuring the members of the Board of Commissioners for the Insane Asylum for their action in re-electing Dr. Patterson as superintendent of that institution.

While I did not vote for Dr. Patterson I believe that my colleagues did what they regarded was for the best interests of the state when they endorsed the administration of Dr. Patterson.

The paradoxical tinge to the resolution, however, is what I desire to call attention to. Simmered down to its conclusion is reads about as follows:

Whereas, The members of the Democratic party have voted for a Republican as superintendent of the Asylum and one silver man has voted for a Democrat. Resolved, That we, the Democrats of Washoe county, have nothing more to do with the silver party in the future.

Respectfully,

SAM DAVIS.

Off For San Francisco

George E. Nolan, manager of the Nevada Engineering Works, left this morning for San Francisco, where he will remain for several days. It is partly a business trip, but Mr. Nolan states that he is going to the coast to get thawed out, or at least escape the cold weather Reno people are now enjoying.

Last night was about the coldest of the year.

It is said that block ice is creating all kinds of trouble with the farmers at the mouth of the canyon. The water in the river backs up and is overflowing the low lands.

No Wonder

The talk of the town is the grand opening ball to be given by the Reno Wheelmen Club in their new $12,000 home next Friday evening. The event will be the formal opening of one of the finest club houses on the coast, and it is estimated that over 250 couples will take part in the festivities. The Wheelmen are making a strenuous effort to eclipse any previous attempt and they will undoubtedly succeed. Tickets will be on sale Tuesday next at $1.50.

AETNA MINERAL WATER

(Bottled at Aetna Springs, Napa Co. Cal.)

There are so many kinds of mineral waters on the market, and all claiming to possess healthful properties, that it is difficult for a person to make a choice.

When we consider, however, that AETNA has stood in the front rank for years, has been a favorite in households as well as public resorts, and has been recommended by eminent physicians, who use it themselves and prescribe it for patients, there should be no question in the matter of selection.
